

Trend File: Miley Cyrus, Jewelry Provocateur

If you're like me, you were a little unsure about your feelings toward pop singer Miley Cyrus after that raunchy VMAs performance with Robin Thicke back in 2013.

But between then and now, Cyrus—a current judge on hit TV series The Voice—has grown up gads, while maintaining her signature quirkiness and girl-power chutzpah (also, the girl can sing). Her individualism is perhaps most on display in her fashion choices, which swing from nuevo Loretta Lynn to glitter-splattered Coachella queen, hitting dozens of bases in between.

Cyrus' oddball (and influential) styling always incorporates jewelry, often big pieces packing plenty of flash.

Here are a few of my favorite recent jewelry looks from the trendsetting pop star.

Ruby pendant necklace, red plastic/acrylic earrings, and fire-engine-red lipstick—only Cyrus could pull it off (Image: @nbcthevoice)

Cyrus in her best country-girl shorts suit with celestial diamond earrings and a choker-length gold necklace (Image: @nbcthevoice)

Going full Elvis in diamond hoops and bedazzled belts with Stranger Things star Milly Bobby Brown (Image: @mileycyrus)

Necklace layering 2.0, with a side of rock 'n' roll sneer (Image: @mileycyrus)

Modernizing a classic parure like a master for an appearance with Jimmy Fallon (Image: @mileycyrus)
